BLAME PUT ON STEPHENS FOR FAULTY ROADS

Automobile Association Criticizes Governor For Highway Failures.

Governor William D. Stephens is blamed for faulty road construction in various parts of the state in a statement issued yesterday by the California Automobile Association.
The statement bears the signature of the organization's president, George S. Fordger, and tells of the recent finding of a large percentage of failures in California highway construction.

The statement charges that there are unexpended millions in highway funds, and that Governor Stephens who alone, it says, has the power to correct these conditions, has failed to take steps toward rectifying them
after having been furnished a complete detailed report of the location of the faulty roads and the nature of their construction.

STATEMENT OF CLUB.
The statement reviews the recent engineering survey conducted by the association. The review follows in part:

"When the club undertook its engineering survey of the State system, it was apparent that our highways were beginning to fail in many places and that extensive and more disastrous failures could be expected unless remedial measures were taken. This report attached no blame to the State Highway Commission for early failures, the club's engineers recognizing that much of the work was in an untried field and with no definite knowledge of the extent of traffic increase.

The criticism made by the club
was directed at a policy which continues to build thin, narrow pavements that have and are failing and against administrative policies which experience has shown have resulted in wasteful expenditures of highway funds.

LOSS IS SHOWN.

Without the evidence presented by the engineering report of the State Association, this loss is clearly proven by an estimate prepared by the Highway Commission in April last showing the need for reconstructing 230 miles of thin slab pavement—120 miles of which has been built since 1916 and 39
miles of which has given less than three years' service. Even in the face of a subsequent engineering report issued by the United States Bureau of Public Roads, which criticized the California construction, in most instances on the

FRENCH "TIGER'S" ROAR PUTS FEAR IN POLITICIANS

By WEBB MILLER,
United Press Staff Correspondent.
PARIS, Sept. 6.—The "Tiger" has roared in the French political jungle and many politicians hereabouts are trembling at the prospect of his reappearance.

Many pretend to see in the brief
political speech in which Georges Clémenceau, on Saturday, defended his policies at the time of the Versailles treaty portents of the "old master's" return to political life.

The announcement that the
"grand old man" of France would edit a new magazine, collaborating with Thadée, Mandel and Lignere, the colored deputy, received a mixed reception in the French press.

Lumors of Clémenceau's reappearance came at an opportune moment for the French government, of which Paul Doumer, the finance minister, is under fire from all sides. The press has been clamoring for Doumer's resignation.

Grandson of Pioneer On Visit To Oakland

Dr. Arthur D. Hirschfelder, grandson of Oakland's first postmaster,
and son of the first white child born
in this city, arrived yesterday for a visit in his old home. He is a faculty member of the University of Michigan, being head of the department of pharmacology. He took his degree from the University of California, with the class of 1918.

Aaron Hirschfelder was among the earliest settlers in the region that is now Oakland. He was appointed the first postmaster. His son, the late J. O. Hirschfelder, one of the founders of Cooper Medical College in San Francisco, was the first white child born here.

Plan For African Colony Rejected

PARIS, Sept. 6.—Thirty American colored men and women delegates to the Pan-African congress in session here yesterday, headed by Dr.
W. E. Burghardt du Bois of New York, repudiated the plan of Marcus Garvey, provisional president of Africa, of "Africa for the Africans."

Dr. du Bois said:
"The colored American cannot withstand the African climate, and we do not desire to do so."

same points raised by the State Association engineers, the commission did not avail itself of the proffered help, so far as it openly appears, but has repeatedly assailed it.

The association has sought and failed through co-operative conferences to bring about the correction of past mistakes.

MRS. SPRECKELS NOT TO CONTEST WILL OF HUSBAND

Comes From Europe To See
That Estate Is Properly Administered, She Says.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Mrs.
Sidie Wirt Spreckels, widow of the late John D. Spreckels Jr., killed in an automobile accident three weeks ago, has arrived in San Francisco from Paris. Recently she received an interlunary degree of divorce from Spreckels.

She denied that the purpose of her California visit is to institute proceedings breaking the will of her late husband. She is accompanied by her daughter, Geraldine. She will be in conference with her attorney, John L. McNah, today.

"I am here simply to see that the will is properly administered," Mrs.
Spreckels said. "It is not necessary that I engage in a legal fight and I do not intend to make any contest," she declared.

Two wills have already been filed by Attorney W. L. Brabbs, representing John D. Spreckels Sr., who is administrator of the estate. The first document dated 1908 leaves the estate to the first wife, now the wife of Frank Wakefield, and the three children. The second instrument, executed in 1916, leaves the estate to the second wife and the three children of Mrs. Wakefield, with a provision for any child that might be born as a result of the second marriage. Geraldine, age 4, under this will becomes an heir. Mrs.

Film Acting as College Woman Calling Debated

BERKELEY, Sept. 6.—Are the "movies" a suitable vocation for a college girl?

Here are questions asked which have elicited divergent answers from faculty members in a magazine.
Why are college women seldom seen in the movies? The reason does attention paid to personal charm interfere with intellectual development?

Says Miss Florence Lutz of the university's public speaking department:
"I should advise to college women to go into the movies. The reason more girls do not take up this work is because it gives so little chance for advancement. Speech is the greatest of human faculties and, deprived of this, the act of acting becomes abnormal and distorted."

ARE QUEENS ALREADY.
Prof. C. D. Von Neimayer, also of the public speaking department,
stated that he could not see why
students do not become motion picture actors. "There are certainly a great many of them who dress and act like movie queens," he explains.

"A slightly indiscreet question,"
said Professor Regis Michoud of the French department, when asked whether the most beautiful women married early and failed to come to college. "I have seen very beautiful women on the campus. My idea is that of renaissance, that culture and charm must go together. The good,

the true and the beautiful should harmonize as best they can."

BEAUTY IS ASSET.
Dr. Ruby Cunningham of the hygiene department gives this advice
to girls entering the university:
"Attractiveness is the duty of every woman. Far from interfering with intellectual development, a half an hour every morning devoted to the cultivation of personal charm gives a woman a freshness and self-confidence that sharpens her mental facilities."

"But," adds Professor Eugene
Neuhaus of the graphic arts department, "if by the cultivation of personal charm you mean a young woman's pulling out her powder puff and applying it to her nose in the middle of a lecture, I consider it a dangerous distraction from intellectual pursuits."

Man Kills His Wife And Five Children
ORMSBY, Minn., Sept. 6.—A family of seven—the father, mother and five children—were found shot to death in their home here yesterday,
apparently the victims of the father,
Frank Klocow, a business man.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Klocow, the dead are Fred Klocow, 18; Myrtle, 14; Glen, 12; Oliver, 10, and Leland,
5.

All had been shot with a revolver
as they lay in bed, and there were indications an anesthetic had been used beforehand.

Temporary insanity is the only explanation friends make.

Since 1871 England has reduced
her death rate by one-third.

STADIUM BALL TO BE PUBLIC SOCIAL EVENT OF SEASON

Boxes Almost All Sold And General Admission Is in Large Demand.

With Art Hickman and the presentation of three automobiles as a feature and the equipment of the largest stadium in the world as an objective the Civic Stadium ball, to be staged Thursday evening at the Auditorium, promises to be the big holiday event of the year. It is announced that practically all of the boxes on the lower floor have been taken and that the sale of general admission tickets is well under way.

A list of patronesses made public yesterday includes Aurelia H. Reinhardt, president of Mills College, and Mesdames Arthur E. Glaser, Charles Taber, Charles S. Chamberlain, Magnus Anderson, George T. Gamble,
Frank Boren, George Herron, Lydia
Wolf, Luelia N. Ketchum, Harold K.
Faye, John H. Page, L. F. Helmond,
A. C. Harvey, Frank G. Law and O.
P. Cole.

Mayor Davis announces that the first construction work will start shortly after the ball. According to plans under preparation the stadium will accommodate 125,000 people.
This will make it the largest in the world.

The site is composed of five acres
at the end of Lakeshore avenue,
which the mayor already has purchased. It is his plan to donate the stadium when complete to the city.

HART SCHAFFNER & MARX CLOTHES

Lost Pages in California History

By FRANCIS CLIFF.

(This is the second installment of the story of the De Anza Expedition to California over the Colorado desert. It is taken from the newly discovered diaries of De Anza and Padre Pedro Font. In this chapter something is told of the composition of the party that braved death hundreds of times before San Francisco bay was reached. The De Anza and Font diaries throw new light on California history.)

COMPOSITION OF PARTY.

The second expedition consisted of a total of 240 persons and 1055 animals, making quite an imposing caravan as it strung out on its winding way across the reaches of the desert. The party consisted of: Colonel Juan Bautista de Anza, commander of the expedition; Padre Pedro Font, chaplain of the expedition; and Padre Francisco Garces and Padre Tomas; on Mariano Vidal, purveyor of the expedition; Don Joseph Joaquin Ortega, lieutenant and second in command; 18 veteran soldiers for scout duty; 30 recruits for the frontier garrison; 29 wives of the soldiers; 126 children of both sexes; four volunteer settlers and families; 20 muleteers; three vaqueros; four servants and three Indian interpreters.

The animals which accompanied the party in the nature of riding, pack and stock animals consisted of 5 pack mules, 500 saddle horses, mares with mule colts, 225 beef cattle, and 20 privately owned cattle, making a total of 1055 animals in the train.

Military conditions of the strictest kind prevailed upon the march across the desert. The order was as follows, according to Padre Font. "At a suitable hour the horses and mules were brought up and each person went out to take his animals. The muleteers the mules, and the soldiers and servants the horses for themselves and families. While they were being saddled, I usually said mass as there was sufficient time for that. When the animals were ready to start the commander said 'mount!' We all mounted our horses and the march began, the line being formed in this manner:

In front went four soldiers to spy out the road. The commander then followed at the head of the van-were thirteen; nine for the soldiers, one for the lieutenant, one for Father Garces and Tomas, and one for me, and one large round one for the commander.

WATERHOLES EMPTY.

Shortly after leaving the Colorado river and striking out into the desert, it was found that the waterholes were so few, so far apart and carried such an insufficient amount of water that it was necessary to divide the party into three groups so that all might not arrive at the waterholes at the same time. At some of the tinajas or natural desert water tanks, the water had evaporated and around the stone basins would be found the bones of animals which just able to reach the location, had perished miserably of thirst. During the gold rush period seventy-five years later many of the Argonauts perished in the same manner at these same dried up waterholes. Whenever Anza and his party encountered an empty waterhole it was necessary for everyone to go thirsty until the next hole was reached. In this manner much of the stock perished, being unable to continue the march. At some places Anza managed to dig wells and so provide sufficient water. In a couple of instances these same openings in the desert soil are still furnishing the life giving fluid to those who essay the terrible desert crossing.

COURSE FOLLOWED.

The line of march followed by the early immigrants has been determined through a close study of the diaries by Dr. Bolton and Paden and verified by the greater part of its length, leads from the junction of the Colorado and Gila rivers south into Mexico to round a long low range of shifting sand dunes;

guard. Then I came. After me followed the men, women and children with the soldiers who went to escort and take care of their families. Finally the line was ended with the rear guard and the lieutenant. Behind, generally, came the pack animals. After them the loose horses and last of all the cattle, altogether forming a very long line.

"As soon as we began the march I intoned the 'Agnus Dei' and all the people responded. This was done on every day of the march. As soon as the halting place was reached after all the people had alighted, the lieutenant went to report to the commander whether all had arrived or whether anything had been left behind, so that he might order what was to be done. At night the people recited the 'Itorium' in their huts by families, and at the end of the march the 'Salve' or something else, each family in its own way, producing in this variety a very pleasing effect. As there was a large number of people, when we halted the camp resembled a town with the huts made by the soldiers with their cloaks, blankets and branches of trees, and especially with the field tents, of which there through what is now the Imperial valley, across the then dry bed of the present Salton Sea; striking thence into the mountains through Borrego valley up Coyote canyon to the junction of Horse, Tule and Nance canyons. From this point they went up the left wall of Nance canyon to the Pass of San Carlos into the Terwilliger valley. Down this way the party traveled to the northeastern part of Coahuilla, into Bautista canyon and on to the San Jacinto valley to the present site of Riverside near which they crossed the Santa Ana river and made their way to the mission of San Gabriel. From there they followed the known route used by the padres and soldiers to the Presidio of Monterey.

PREVIOUS MISCONCEPTIONS.
For many years the San Geronimo Pass has been known and widely advertised by the Southern Pacific company as the historic gateway through which Anza came into Alta California and during all these many years it has surreptitiously been securing the admiring exclamations of pleasurable surprise from the thousands of eastern tourists who have passed through it. The researches of Dr. Bolton and Paden,

Youth Who Shot Boy Friend Exonerated

LEAD, S. D., Sept. 6.—Harry Wolcott of Mitchell, S. D., was exonerated by a coroner's jury here yesterday of responsibility for the death of Corbin Davis, whom he shot and killed in the canyon of the Spearfish. Both youths, students of Wesleyan University at Mitchell, were touring the Black Hills by automobile. Wolcott said the revolver he was practicing with was accidentally discharged.

American Financiers To Aid French Banks

PARIS, Sept. 6.—Informal discussions are taking place here between American financiers with the purpose of establishing closer co-operation between American banking interests in France and evolving practical methods for helping French industries through these institutions. Five of the largest American banks and trust companies have offices here.

FUGITIVE SHOT DEAD.

LEBANON, Ind., Sept. 6.—One man was killed yesterday and another seriously wounded in a battle between Sheriff Thomas Cain and officers, and alleged "whisky runners," ten miles east of here. The officers had captured the five men who were taking an automobile load of whisky toward Lebanon. When the party neared the town, the men suddenly turned on the officers and in the fight that followed, Sheriff Cain shot and killed one of the men and seriously wounded another. The other three escaped.

If all the sea dried up, it has been estimated that the salt deposit left would form a covering one mile thick over a million square miles.

TROOPS ORDERED TO DEPART FROM MINE WAR ZONE

Twenty-Sixth Infantry To Quit Area; Entire District Reported Quiet.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Withdrawal of Twenty-sixth infantry, one of the two regiments ordered into the West Virginia coal fields last week, as recommended by Brigadier-General H. H. Bandholtz, commanding the troops in the field, was approved today by President Harding. Orders for the return of the regiment to Camp Dix, N. J., its home station, were immediately issued by Secretary Weeks.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 6.—All points on the Logan-Boone border, where industrial war has raged for ten days, were quiet this morning, according to reports reaching the office of Brigadier-General H. H. Bandholtz, in command of United States troops in the trouble zone. United States troops are in complete control and practically all miners have returned to their homes, according to morning reports. Soldiers are now searching hill-tops and sides for bodies of dead, but thus far none have been found. A careful check-up of casualties will be made.

"I am satisfied with the situation," said General Bandholtz today. He added that he had forwarded recommendations for future action to Washington, but refused to disclose the nature of these recommendations.

The Panama canal reduced the maritime distances between New York and San Francisco by 8000 miles.

Holiday Motor Traffic Breaks Previous Record

Automobile traffic around the bay region over Sunday and Monday was the heaviest in history. Ferry company officials estimate the number of cars going both ways during the holiday period at about 30,000, carrying approximately 90,000 persons.

This number is thought to be about one-third of the actual number of cars that passed over the highways on both sides of the bay, the majority of the motorists taking the routes that did not necessitate a ferry crossing.

Police at Santa Cruz estimated late yesterday that more than 50,000 automobiles had entered and left Santa Cruz during Saturday, Sunday and Monday. At 8 o'clock Sunday morning it was impossible to find accommodations in Santa Cruz. Hotels were overflowing, parking stations were jammed and the crowds at the Casino and beaches were the greatest that Santa Cruz has ever known.

The Southern Pacific Company alone ferried 10,000 cars, the Northwestern Pacific 2500, Monticello Steamship Company, 253; the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry Company, 1500, and the Rodco-Vallejo Ferry Company, 1800. This check was taken early yesterday, and there has been no way of making a complete check since the ferries quit running last night.

Southern Pacific Company officials said they carried 1500 more automobiles than during any other three-day period.

The Southern Pacific ferries between Oakland and San Francisco carried 4000 machines over the three-day period. The Oakland harbor ferry was discontinued yesterday afternoon because of an accident to the ferry Newark, the service being resumed late last night. Three auto ferries were kept in constant operation between San Francisco and the new automobile ferry slip at the Oakland pier.

An estimate at midnight last night by Northwestern Pacific ferry officials placed the number of cars carried by their ferries between San Francisco and Sausalito over the three-day period at 8000, or 1000 more than over the Fourth of July holiday period.

Despite the record-breaking traffic there were comparatively few accidents reported.

Practically every resort within reach of the bay region was crowded over Saturday, Sunday and yesterday, according to reports coming in today.

Improvement Club Will Meet Tonight

The first regular meeting of the Central Oakland Improvement Club will be held tonight in the auditorium of the Oakland Technical high school. Matters said to be of vital importance to the residents of the district are to be discussed and voted upon, according to W. J. Samuels, secretary of the organization. The organization was founded but a week ago. There are 490 members. Attorney H. S. Henion is president.

HYDROPLANE RECORD SET. DETROIT, Sept. 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Establishing a new world's hydroplane record of 79.91 miles an hour, Miss America II, driven by George Wood of Detroit, today won the Lake George trophy, emblematic of the one-mile speed boat championship of North America.

Certain tropical trees are now being utilized in manufacturing a fabric closely resembling silk.

RECONCILIATION ENDS PROLONGED STRIFE OF COUPLE

Jefferson Moore and Wife, Who Stirred Society, Drop Divorce.

Fluttering over so lightly, the bird of domestic peace and happiness has entered the Redwood City home of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Moore, peninsula society folk.

Spiked, therefore, is the heavy artillery of mutual recrimination, and the battle in the divorce courts of the land has been "called off" definitely. Such little things as the throwing of flower-pots and the slapping of faces are also forgotten in the reconciliation of the principals, who are now enjoying together the cool breeze at Del Monte, that honeymoon spot "par excellence."

The divorce suit of the Jefferson Moores rocked peninsula society to the granite of its foundations. Sensation followed sensation in the course of the legal battling.

On one occasion Mrs. Jefferson Moore barricaded herself in her home, determined that no divorce summons should be served upon her by the minions of the law. But when the siege commenced in dead earnest and the novelty of the situation had worn off, Mrs. Moore attempted to escape from her home attired in men's clothing, with her flowing hair hidden under a man's cap. She was captured by the besieging forces and all these things are forgotten and once more love reigns supreme in Redwood City.

It is recalled by peninsula society that Mrs. Moore left her husband once before, and instituted divorce proceedings. On that occasion her husband settled a home in Palo Alto and $100,000 in cash on Mrs. Moore, but they became reconciled the day before the settlement became effective.

TRoubles ARE SETTLED. Charges and counter-charges have been flung to and fro in the marital upheaval which has now been so happily settled.

One of the interesting details of the reconciliation is the role played by the respective lawyers who have acted as kindly intermediators and not as cold legal luminaries, merely.

BOY MISSING AS FATHER DIES IS LOCATED IN JAIL

"They Would Not Let Me Leave," Says Letter To Probation Officer.

"Dear Mr. Compton: I got your letter about my father's death. I couldn't come even to the funeral. I was in jail here, and they wouldn't let me leave, even to see my father before he died."

In this paragraph of a letter, received last night by Leonard D. Compton, adult probation officer for Alameda county, explains the mysterious disappearance of Alfred Olson, 20 years old, for whom a frantic search was being conducted while his father, Nils E. Olson, a pioneer resident of this city and a former resident of this city and a former resident of this city, died recently, with his son still missing.

The letter was sent from Yuba City, where the youth is being held in jail, charged with stealing three automobile magnets, which were found under his bed in a lodging house. A year ago young Olson was in trouble and received probation on the recommendation of Compton.

Because Compton interested himself in the youth a year ago, it was to him that the boy's mother turned in her efforts to find him. But search was unavailing, and the aged ferryboatman died, his prayer that he could see his only son before he died, unanswered.

The letter from the boy to Compton concluded:

"I have been crying in my cell for days, but it made no difference. They would not let me go, even when I promised on my honor to return, and they would send me one with me."

"I went into a nickel flop house here one night. Next morning I woke up with a policeman by my bed. He said they had found three magnets under my bed and that I was under arrest for stealing them. Honest, Mr. Compton, I have been straight since you got me off before, but that did not make no difference. I have been held here in jail ever since."

Interested in the technical aspect of the case.

Attorney Louis Oneal of San Jose, who represents Mrs. Moore, declared yesterday that a stipulation to the effect that a reconciliation has been offered was in the Redwood City Superior court last Saturday.

LACK OF SLEEP AND OVERWORK INJURE TEACHERS

Tests to see whether overwork or lack of sufficient sleep cause teachers to lose efficiency at times are being made in several of the schools, which hitherto have been conducting nourishment tests for children alone.

It has been discovered that some teachers are underweight. Such teachers are required to drink an additional pint of milk in the middle of the morning and eat a sandwich. This rule has been found good for children and its efficiency is believed to be equally good for grown-ups.

It is asserted that often overwork or lack of proper sleep cause the educators to break down slowly, without realizing what is the matter.

'TOY BALLOON,' SMOKER MEET; BURNS RESULT

George Taylor, 565 Twenty-second street, would like to know who named them "toy balloons." Taylor had an experience yesterday, which convinced him they should be named "dynamite" or "doctor's friend."

Taylor, who is a real estate salesman, was enjoying a cigarette in the smoking compartment of a Telegraph avenue car. At Thirty-seventh street a conductor of toy balloons got on. As he passed Taylor's cigarette came in contact with one of the balloons. There was a loud noise.

Taylor was taken to the Emergency hospital, where it was found he had suffered burns of the face, neck and hands.

FORD INVITED TO DISCUSS SHOALS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Secretary of War Weeks today wrote to Henry Ford, asking the auto manufacturer to come to Washington at his convenience to discuss his offer to take over the Mussel Shoals project in Alabama. Weeks said that he had also received notice today from C. E. James of Chattanooga, Tenn., that he was sending an offer to the war department to take over Mussel Shoals.

Germany Will Meet Reparation Demands. BERLIN, Sept. 6.—An official note denies reports that the German finance ministry was preparing a memorandum intended to prove the impossibility of Germany making further reparations payments.

Newest German Dirigible Is Turned Over to France

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The last and also the latest of the German Zeppelins, the "Nordstern," formerly the LZ-121, has been turned over to the French Government for commercial purposes, reporting to the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics here, J. J. Ide, technical assistant in Europe, states that this great airship, which is under the control of the Service de Navigation Aerienne, and not the French Navy as are the other French airships, will be employed in the Marseilles-Algiers service.

According to the treaty, Germany was ordered to turn over her two latest commercial Zeppelins, the "Bodensee" and the "Nordstern," to Italy and France respectively, as well as to surrender her military airship, and now this has been done.

Unlike her sister ship, the "Bodensee," which was flown many times had never been permitted to leave her hangar at Friedrichshafen until her recent trip of 350 miles to St. Cyr, which required nine hours. After a long wait, lacking in progress, she was ordered to leave the hangar, came over flying field at an altitude of 500 feet, but as she slackened speed, she rose to about 1300 feet, and was forced to describe a large circle before she could descend due to a puff wind. Finally after a struggle, which carried some of the ground crew fifteen feet aloft, she was moored, and Captains Leroy and Paugnon and Adjutant Marion, one of the French Army, who had flown as observers, alighted. The "Nordstern" was then turned and "walked" into the shed, which maneuver was well carried out although the shed was little wider and higher than the ship, Mr. Ide states. As soon as the great airship was housed, the German crew disembarked and the French Under Secretary of State for Air, Mr. Laurent, and his party went aboard for a tour of inspection.

Although not as long by 269 feet as the new Navy dirigible the LZ-2 which fell in England, the "Nordstern" is a gigantic air liner measuring 425 feet in length and 61 feet in diameter. Her useful load is 25,000 pounds, nearly the half her total load, and she carries 45 passengers and crew. She is propelled at a speed of about 50 miles per hour by four Maybach engines, two operating a single propeller in the rear cabin, and one in each wing car. The passenger cabin, which is slung well forward and amidships, is reported to be composed of five bays, each containing six arm chairs facing forward and aft. Over each seat there is a luggage rack and light movable tables can be placed between separate seats. Forward of the cabin is a large dining room, and in the nose, the navigating room. There is a small kitchen aft opposite the entrance to the car.

Amateur Holdup Man Asks For Probation

Donald J. Fairchild, amateur holdup man, charged and repentant, pleaded guilty when arraigned before Superior Judge Samuels this morning and asked for probation. His case was referred to Leonard D. Compton, adult probation officer, who will make a report on September 28.

Fairchild, who is said to be the son of wealthy easterners, walked into N. G. Neilson's pool room, 200 East Fourteenth street, on the night of August 1, and ordered the occupants to throw up their hands. They all obeyed except Conley Webster, who threw a billiard ball that hit Fairchild, who then followed up his assault with a billiard cue and Fairchild ran. He was captured after a chase of several blocks and turned over to the police.

ALAMEDA COUNTY TELLS WORLD OF WEALTH AT FAIR

Giant Ledger Displays Section's Achievements in Industry And On Land.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 6.—Alameda county literally "opens her books" to visitors at the State Fair this year. Prominently displayed in the center of the exhibit is a giant ledger, with pages 20x30 inches, in which is stated in large printed lettering all the important facts of Alameda county. Any question on the county is answered quickly and concisely by perusing these giant pages.

Under "Industrial" visitors learn that 60,000 workers are employed in the 1750 manufacturing plants of the county. The annual payroll is $65,000,000. Everything from giant steel ships to needles is manufactured in the county.

Turning to "Agriculture," the visitor learns that more than 30,000 acres are producing all kinds of fruits and vegetables. The county leads in apricots, as well as in other products. Seven million dollars is the annual return from poultry in the Hayward and Livermore districts, while bees and honey yield $105,000 in a year. Alameda county raises and ships more pigeons than any other county in the state.

COUNTY'S VALUATION.
On other pages are given such facts as the county's valuation, just completed, $282,591,635, of which $11,650,379 is operative or public utilities; one-fourth of the steel ships built in the United States during the war were constructed in the shipyards of Alameda county; one-third of the state canneries is in Alameda county; the county contains the state university, the largest women's college in the west, Mills; a great Catholic college, St. Mary's, and a system of public schools that serves as a model for the nation.

The color scheme of the exhibit this year is blue and gold, the state university's colors. On exhibit are 264 varieties of products grown in the county. Nuts are counted as one variety, although there are 94 nut varieties shown.

Much interest is being taken in the new vegetables produced in the county, the "sweet potato squash," "Lecipo." This is a cross between a sweet potato and a New Guinea bean, but has the sweet potato flavor. J. H. Begler of San Leandro has also Kollabi, which looks like giant radishes and tastes like potato. The exhibit was installed by the Alameda County Development Association, with Secretary Ed Stearns in charge.

Women of Middle Age

THE critical stage of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 55, and is often beset with annoying symptoms such as nervousness, irritability, melancholia, heat flashes which produce headache and dizziness, and a sense of suffocation. Guard your health carefully, for if this period be passed over safely, many years of perfect health may be enjoyed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women through this crisis. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics. Its value is proven by many such letters as these:

Aton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During Change of Life I was in bed for 18 months and had good care, but did not improve. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and in a short time I felt better. That was five years ago, and now when I feel run down and nervous I take the Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during Change of Life, for I know it will do them good."—Mrs. A. KELLER, Aton, Tenn.

Thomas, Okla.—"I first used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my girlhood days, by the advice of a friend. At the age of 47 I was troubled with dizziness, hot flashes, and became very weak so that I was unable to do any work. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with the result that I felt better and stronger than I have for years. I have also given it to my three daughters, and always with good results. The Vegetable Compound is certainly grand for the ills of women."—Mrs. J. G. SWARTZ, Route B, Thomas, Okla.

Reunion of Christendom, Divorce and Change in Moral Standards to Be Discussed.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Important world problems, including the reunion of Christendom, marriage and divorce, capital and labor, international cooperation and the causes underlying the change in "moral standards" of the present age, are to be discussed at the fifth Biennial Methodist Conference, which opens in Central Wesleyan Hall, Westminster, tomorrow evening and continuing until Friday, September 16.

The speakers will be leaders of Methodist thought throughout the world and will include editors, educators and other prominent laymen, as well as bishops and ministers.

The speakers will be leaders of Methodist thought throughout the world and will include editors, educators and other prominent laymen, as well as bishops and ministers.

The number of delegates to the present meeting, including African M. B. Church representatives, is 555, of whom 251 are from the United States, 84 from Canada, and 220 from all Wesleyan bodies in Great Britain and its dominions and mission fields.

POPULATION ESTIMATE.—The Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll of Plainfield, N. J., will present to the conference an estimate showing the Methodist population in the world, including members, probationers and adherents to have totaled 38,622,190 in 1919. In 1910 it was given as 32,728,547.

"The Methodist population of the world," says Dr. Carroll, "is the accepted basis of four adherents to each member in the Eastern Section and of two and a half in the United States and Canada, has reached highly satisfactory figures. It is probably the largest population of any Protestant communion except the Lutheran."

Downey, New York; "The Moral Necessity of International Alliance," United States Senator Carter Glass; "Changing Moral Standards of the Age," Bishop F. J. Customs Fifty Years Ago

Who among us would say today, "I never use a Dentifrice, I never have to?"

Fifty years ago, odd as it may seem, not one person in 1000 used a Dentifrice—or even a tooth brush.

So today, after more than 80 years of persistent publicity of Allen's Foot-Ease, the Antiseptic Powder for the Feet, not many well-turned-out people care to confess, "You know I never have to use a Powder for the Feet!"

More than one million five hundred thousand pounds of Powder for the Feet were used by our Army and Navy during the war.

The reason is this: Incasing and confining the feet in Leather or Canvas Shoes is bound to create friction, more or less. Allen's Foot-Ease removes the friction from the shoes and freshens the feet. It is this friction which causes corns, callouses, corns and bunions. You know what friction does to your motor car. Why not remove it from your feet? Shaking into your shoes today Allen's Foot-Ease, the clean, wholesome, healing, antiseptic powder? Get the hint, as millions now have it.—Advertisement.

Holding a Husband

by Adele Garbison

Lillian shot him a keen glance before she answered. "I wondered if she had any inkling of Dick's new attitude toward our freedom, his resentment of the aggressiveness with which we sometimes attacked our problems."

"You need your dinner," she announced, "but you won't have to wait much longer. Betty will be announcing in about five minutes now—ten at the latest."

"That's the best news I've heard in a coon's age," Dick replied. "We entered Lillian's wonderful white and crimson living room."

"Then minutes ago," she said, "I just gave me time to call up the Durkes. We ought to find out if the house we've just sold is still standing, or if it's been burned down."

DICKY TELEPHONES.

"You'll be saved all moving expenses if it is," Lillian's tone was dry, and I wondered if she harbored the same thought which had come to me—that this note of anxiety for his possessions was new to careless Dicky. I could not shut from my mind the knowledge that Edith Fairfax was now a member of the Durke household."

"Have the honeymooners returned?" I asked carelessly, as Dicky moved toward the hall.

"I don't think so. They were to get back next Saturday the last I heard."

"The last I heard," I repeated the words mentally, myself with whom? Was it possible that he was corresponding with—the sound of Dicky's voice at the telephone was just my speculation, and I fixed my strained attention upon the hall outside."

"Hello! That you, Edith? What's the matter with you?"

"How well they must know each other's voices! I couldn't help the miserable thought coming to me, as I noticed that Dicky had not come here at once, and had not deemed it necessary to announce his own."

WHAT MADGE FEARED.

"It sounded hoarse, that's all," I faltered. There was distinct anxiety in her tone. "How's every little thing?"

"Where's her husband?"

"He's paused for her reply, and I stole a furtive glance at Lillian. That she was also listening intently to the one-sided conversation I knew, but she, although her eyes were bent upon the fire in the grate."

"Oh, I'm sorry to hear that," Dicky's voice expressed only perfunctory regret, and I did not vision any calamity to Mrs. Durke. "Hope she'll feel better in the morning. No, we're not coming. Let me see you at the station when we arrived, and corralled us. We're here for dinner and the night. But we'll be out in the morning. I suppose the old shack is still standing."

Another pause, during which Betty appeared at the door of the living room and rolled her eyes backward and forward with distinct disapproval. That he caught the hint his next words demonstrated.

"Thanks for looking out for it. I'll be right back without ever calling Madge to say hello. Betty is announcing dinner, and you probably know what will happen to me if I stay the game so long. See you tomorrow. Hello Betty! Do you see how the very sight of you makes me jump for fear you'd disapprove of me?"

Betty grinned widely.

"Betty certainly is de beat-in-est man, Mistah Dicky," she said. "But you shoob was wise to ring off that telephone. Hain't no time to monkey with that old phone of mine. I'm in de table. Dinna ax skeved, Mistah Lillian."

Her voice changed abruptly, as it always does when she announces a man. "I think the proudest moments of Betty's life are when she announces dinner formally to the mistress of the house, and her voice again is filled with dignity."

But Dicky knows no law when he is in a hilarious mood.

"You two can escort yourselves in," he called over his shoulder. "I'm going to see that this lady gets safely back to the kitchen. If she should stumble and not be able to save that dinner!"

With a mischievous laugh Dicky put his hand upon Betty's arm and rushed the protesting but chuckling old maid woman out the hall.

"And I followed, wondering miserably if something Edith Fairfax had said was responsible for Dicky's high spirits."

WENT LILLIAN UNDERWOOD CAME TO MADGE'S RESCUE.

Old Betty's dinner was one of the masterpieces we have learned to expect from her, and we were all vibrant trenchmen. Even my vague uneasiness concerning a telephone conversation Dicky had with Edith Fairfax had no power to lessen the hungry zest with which I discussed the delicious viands. We had been hunted from our first train to the day coaches so rapidly that we had had no opportunity to get anything to eat, and, as such, as famished as baby appeared to be, we were ready to eat."

Back in the white and crimson living room with our coffee, Lillian kept the conversational ball in the air with all the juring skill she possessed, while Dicky lit a cigar and lay back in his chair in luxurious ease.

ACCOMPLISHED CARE

All things grow lovely in a little while. The brush of memory paints a canvas fair; The dead face through the ages wears a smile, And glorious becomes accomplished care.

There's nothing ugly that can live for long. There's nothing constant in the scale of pain; Right always comes to take the place of wrong, Who suffers much shall find the greater gain.

Life has a kindly way, despite its tears. And all the burdens which its children bear; It crowns with beauty all the troubled years, And soothes the hurts and makes their memory fair.

Be brave when days are bitter with despair, Be true when you are made to feel wrong; Life's greatest joy is an accomplished care, There's nothing ugly that can live for long.

Uncle Wiggily Stories

by HOWARD R. GATIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE RAIN RATTLE.

"What's at the movies tonight, Nurse Jane?" asked Uncle Wiggily one evening, as he pushed his chair back from the supper table, taking care not to spill any of the baked lemonade pudding. "I haven't seen a picture show in some time," went on the busy gentleman, and I really think I like to see one now. Will you come with me?"

"I'll do that right gladly," answered Nurse Jane. "But perhaps I can't get the dishes cleared off the table in time."

"Oh, I'll help you with that," offered Uncle Wiggily, with a plink of his tin. "I'll be right back."

Before Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy could squeak a word Mr. Longears grasped the four corners of the table cloth in his paws, tied them together and made a bundle of them he carried out to the kitchen—dishes, cups, saucers and everything! For you see they were all made of wood and didn't break."

"My goodness me!" gasped Nurse Jane. "That was pretty quick work, Uncle Wiggily! Where did you learn that? I do hope nothing is spoiled!"

"Not a bit," answered the busy gentleman. "There was nothing left on the dishes but a few lettuce leaves and it will do no harm if they get shaken up a little. Maybe they'll turn into a salad!" and he chuckled again.

"Now get your bonnet, Nurse Jane, and we'll go to the White Swan theater," he added.

Soon the musty lady came down stairs with a pink and green striped parasol hanging over her head and she and Uncle Wiggily set off through the woods.

"I wonder if it will rain," mused the rabbit gentleman as he looked at the darkening sky. "I'm glad you brought your umbrella, Nurse Jane. It's just like a little like a shower over in the west."

"Umbrella!" exclaimed Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy in surprise. "Why, Uncle Wiggily, this is only my parasol, and I just bought it to be stylish, not to keep off any rain!"

"Well, you could use it in a shower if you had to," spoke the bunny. "But I don't want to get wet. For if it rained and the parasol got wet the colors might run and come off on us, and we'd look like two sticks of candy. Ha, ha!"

Well, Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane enjoyed the pictures, which were about a little boy giving his sister some ice cream cones for her birthday. But I don't want to tell you out of the ice cream cones, they each other with the sharp points of the cones. Coming out of the show stampede, the lady and the bunny felt a drop of rain on her nose. In a few minutes it was pouring hard and Mr. Longears and Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy crawled beneath a bush for shelter, as the bunny said, "I don't use a shower and besides it was too small to cover them both. I told you so!" cried the rabbit. "Uncle Wiggily, what a shame! Some water out of his left ear. I know it would rain."

"I know what would rain, Uncle Wiggily," suddenly asked a little voice beside the lady and the bunny. "What did you think would rain?"

"Why—why—I thought water would rain, and that's what it's raining!" answered Uncle Wiggily in surprise. Looking down he saw a little hotpot laid Mrs. Toad did you think would rain, Mrs. Toad?" asked the bunny.

"I, I hoped it would rain rattle."

"Rain rattle!" Nurse Jane cried, very much surprised. "Why in the world?"

Of South America. At last, after a weary journey, the Justice caught the other boat off the coast of California, near San Diego. On taking it into the harbor of San Diego, they found it was not a pirate ship at all, but a smuggler's boat.

"Well, we will have to go back and find the pirate," said Captain Thomas to his men.

"Aye, aye, sir," shouted his men. In one voice.

So the Justice turned her prow toward the Panama Canal.

From Panama the Justice started on a hunt for the pirates.

"No wonder no one can describe the pirate's boat. This fog is so thick one can hardly see the yards ahead of the boat," said Eric.

"Two boats ahead fighting, sir," called the lookout.

"Fire a broadside through the attacking boat," ordered Captain Thomas. In answer to Eric's command there was a flash and a roar as the pirates' boats were quickly destroyed. The pirates had all rushed back to their boat so they could sail away as fast as they could so they were all killed.

The next morning some of the officers of the Justice went aboard the steamer which they had been following. The first person Eric saw was his father, who rushed up to him and took him away from the crowd. The two talked and the father forgave his son.

Eric then went to Marian, his nursery friend. After he left her, he went to his father, who consented to their marriage.

"We can go to New Orleans and from there we can take a trip in the Justice for our honeymoon," said Eric to Marian.

"Oh that will be lovely! I love the Justice and the sea so much," BOB McCLURG.

Cry on Geraldine's Shoulder

Listen, World

We were discussing the American plan of marriage versus the French scheme—where the husband is hand-picked by the parents, as it were, and all the bride does is to say "Thank you." Over here we were supposed to "marry for love." Sounds fine, doesn't it? No one has ever seemed to doubt the complete beauty of such a motto. But I'm beginning to think that that very attitude toward marriage is one of the worst curses that could have fallen upon our national life.

To marry with love is a beautiful and inspiring thing. But to marry for love is turning a Kesar job into a penny ante game, and the game will get you down on your knees and make little apples. The French have the right conception of marriage, whatever you may think of their way of arranging the preliminaries. So have the Chinese and the Persians and the Turks and the Zulus—when it comes to sizing up the job they have to do. Do they sound any more into which we've drifted with all our mushy talk about "love."

Married life isn't and shouldn't be all romance more than a dinner party. It's a long, hard, and a little bit of a game. Marriage is one of the big, human, working partnerships; the biggest working partnership. Like any working partnership, it requires a certain amount of less labor and ingenuity. The French girl is taught to foresee those difficulties and prepare for them. So is the Turkish girl. If they ever gain love also, they're just so much more.

Some time ago one of the Big Gang discussed an unhappy marriage and quoted an article by Anne Monroe concerning "Blended Souls." The following letter comments on Jerry's reply.

Dear Geraldine: I'm not asking for advice. I just finished reading your Sunday page and can't refrain from adding a few remarks.

Writes FOLKS AND THINGS

"TUNNIN" AT FORTY.

"Tunnin" is going away on a long voyage. "Tunnin's" husband is going to take her.

And we're all delighted.

First, because we all rather like Tunnin and are glad to think of her sailing the summer seas, and looking at palms and cape islets and sunsets and waiting for little brown boys to dive for pennies in the deep blue water that is so clear you can read the newspaper at the bottom of it, though it's sixty feet deep.

We like to think of Tunnin eating mangoes and bread fruit and used to think it looked like a biscuit and grew on a tree all road of us.

For picking and eating with plenty of butter—didn't you?

And learning new songs about rivers and waterfalls and the sigh of the waves upon the beach.

And forgetting all about time and time schedules, and elevated roads and, housekeeping cares, and club dues and O. C. Day, and Madame President and all the rest of it.

And then—we're glad she's going, because I'm afraid Tunnin has been getting on our nerves a bit of late—the nerve of all of us.

By "all of us" I mean the friends who have known Tunnin for a long time and those who have only met her recently, and those who are pleasant to her face and laugh at her behind her back, and those who really know how kind-hearted and sympathetic and gentle Tunnin really is.

HOLDING ON TO YOUTH.

Isn't it too bad?

Wonder if it's Tunnin's fault. Tunnin would be really charming if she were just Sweet Sixteen.

If she were twenty-two or twenty-three, she'd make you smile a bit—but, after all, there's nothing to that. But oh, at forty—poor, little Tunnin!

Firting, coquetting, making eyes—tossing her head, smiling alluringly, glancing—oh, that cloud of hair!—that follows Tunnin wherever she goes! Once she looked beautiful in it, but now, she looks funny, and few are the women who can look funny, and manage to, survive.

Tunnin isn't a beauty, but she has the way of looking like one. She has nice, soft hair, brown with gold lights in it, and big soft blue eyes—but her features are not particularly good.

Tunnin knows how to make the most of her eyes and her hair, and she makes the most of them. Oh, how really she does make the most of them!

And her little, delicate, thin hands—how hard she does work with them! And her foot—rather a pretty foot, but not a very good one. It's the first time you see her. She never lets you escape without seeing that foot, and saving something about the absurd size of it.

And her perpetual bridling and head tossing—and oh, the constant twisting of the world, the flesh and the devil into an admiring audience—for Tunnin!

Always having an argument with a policeman, or a bank clerk, or a street car conductor—and everybody on the street or in the bank or on the car admiring Tunnin's wit and her good nature—so poor little Tunnin thinks.

How attractive she must have been at eighteen!

Her daughter isn't in the least like Tunnin. Her husband is going to take her in a long voyage and try to get her well again. Poor fellow—he's as patient as Job, and as good as gold.

Not surprised that Tunnin is breaking down. It must be an awful effort to act like sixteen and try to look like sixteen—when you're forty.

Poor, little Tunnin—she'd be such a darling if she's only stop pretending to be so nice long cool comfortable day.

DOES IT PAY?

Poor Tunnin! She's made the most of herself so long that there's really too much of her.

And she's quarreled with her friends, and quarreled with her family—and the Doctor says she's on the brink of a nervous breakdown. And now Tunnin's husband is going to take her in a long voyage and try to get her well again. Poor fellow—he's as patient as Job, and as good as gold.

Not surprised that Tunnin is breaking down. It must be an awful effort to act like sixteen and try to look like sixteen—when you're forty.

Poor, little Tunnin—she'd be such a darling if she's only stop pretending to be so nice long cool comfortable day.

Hot Enough For Him

All rattle! at the weather from the mountains to the sea.

But "Thank the Lord," says Johnson, "it's not enough for me!"

I dunno what we'd land at of twas "Thank the Lord," says Johnson, "it's not enough for me!"

The sky is cracked wide open by the heat, a-falling free.

But "Thank the Lord," says Johnson, "it's not enough for me!"

Just think of the hereafter, where you'll have beyond degree!

"Thank the Lord," says Johnson, "it's not enough for me!"

The craps are burnt to cinders—wells dry as dry can be.

"Thank the Lord," says Johnson, "it's not enough for me!"

'FRAT' HOME FOR LATIN-AMERICANS PLANNED AT U. C.

Pablo Sanchez Has Ambition To Aid Relations Between
U. S. and Mexico.

A fraternity home for Spanish-American students at the University of California is contemplated in the plans of Pablo Sanchez, business man of Berkeley and San Francisco. Sanchez, who leaves within a few days for Mexico, will present the plan to President Obregon and hopes for the sanction and aid of the southern republic.

Sanchez is going to Mexico primarily to fulfill an obligation to General Georges R. Nivelle of France. An autographed photograph of the French war hero has been for some months on its way from its original to President Obregon. Sanchez was chosen to be the bearer. That he might do something to aid in the cementing of relations between the United States and Mexico and particularly between California and Mexico, Sanchez has collected a number of photographs in this state and will give them to Obregon. There is one of President David P. Barrows of the university, one of Mayor James Rolph and others. Mary Garden, when she was in San Francisco, added her photograph to the number and delegated Sanchez to express to Obregon the hope that the Chicago Opera Company might open the great theater near the completion in Mexico City.

Sanchez points out that there have been a number of famous Spanish-Americans graduated from the University of California and that Francisco Madero was one. He is interested in the building of a home for these students, a home designed on Spanish and California lines and is also endeavoring to arrange for exchange of professors between the University of California and Mexico.

W.C.T.U. Home For Girls to Be Open Thursday

By EDNA B. KINARD.

The house warming of the Frances E. Willard Home for Girls, located in Ingham street, is arranged for Thursday evening, September 29, on the opening night of the annual convention of the Alameda County Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The project, which has been sponsored and financed by the local temperance women in an effort to provide a home for young girls who are self supporting, has commanded the interest of the national organization.

Labor conditions have delayed the opening, but the management has announced that with improvements now rapidly going forward, within the coming three weeks the machinery of the big household will probably be set in motion.

Just now the friendly institution makes a double appeal. Unemployment is seriously affecting women in industry as a result of a post-war movement to send them back into the home and Oakland girls have a share in the problem. The board of directors responsible for the home at 1075 Twelfth street has announced that insofar as they are able they will offer temporary shelter without charge to girls without employment or funds.

A home is not a little worth unless its furnishings reaches outside of the small circle. So it is that young people of the community will be drawn within the cosy walls for recreation and fun.

The W. C. T. U. has undertaken the large task of furnishing the spacious house. Its living room and bed chambers are to be made attractive for girls' occupants. There are many corners yet to be filled and a linen closet wants to be supplied. Anyone who loves girls who are striving to keep their pride in independence, invited to make a gift of furnishings, linens, dishes or even a few hours labor. Mrs. Addie Moore—Oak, 7649—chairman of the house committee, will receive the contributions.

The Presbyterian church, near by the new home, will afford accommodations to the annual county meeting, which is scheduled for two days beginning September 29.

Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhart, president of Mills College, will share with Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald, president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, as guest of honor at the luncheon at which the Alameda County Federation of Women's Clubs will rally its forces on Monday, September 26, at White Lunch Inn. Mrs. L. R. Rosenberg of Hayward, president, will preside. Club women of the county are invited to join the early season festivity.

The Hill and Valley Club is assuming the role of hostess in offering to put aside its own day of meeting, to look after the details which make all the difference in the success or failure of a luncheon. Its leaders have undertaken to provide transportation from the street cars to the picturesque ranch on the Dublin Boulevard for guests who will not make the pilgrimage from town or country in automobiles. No small task this, but one eagerly accepted by the Hayward women.

Mrs. Josephine Swan White, president of the California Speech Arts Association, who has won favor through her musical achievements, has an important place on the September program of the Pacific Coast Women's Club at which guests will be admitted next Monday. Harp and cornet solos will also be contributed to the afternoon by Miss

MOTHER SPENDS NIGHT FIGHTING HORDE OF RATS

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—A harrowing story of poverty and mother love came to light here when a woman staggered into the Poplar street police station in Brooklyn, carrying one of her two children in her arms and begged for help.

Last Thursday night she was evicted from her home for failure to pay rent. Her furniture was dumped into the street. Saturday night, driven to shelter in a basement by exhaustion and hunger, she made an improvised bed for her children, one a girl of four and the other a boy of seven. Hardly had the youngsters gone to sleep when the mother was attacked by rats.

Frantically the mother beat the rats off. All night long she spent in defending herself. She told detectives that she was Mrs. Ida Carroll and that her husband, Christopher, had been unable to obtain work.

Chearfulness is the rubber tire of life's vehicle. It helps us to pass over many bumps and rough places. Esther Ruth Horanday and Mrs. Mabel Kilgore.

Monday, September 12, will inaugurate the season, the program being offered preliminary to a reception in compliment to Mrs. Ina Bradstreet Weston, past president; Mrs. Charles Raven and the incoming officers.

Choice of Profession Is Query to Tribune Bureau

The choice of a profession is a puzzle almost every one at the outset of his or her career. With some it is a case of natural selection, with others a deliberate choice. Advice is sought from many sources, often of the information Bureau of The TRIBUNE. Here is a letter along this line that came in recently:

"I would like to enquire of you, if you could tell me of at least ten professions that will be most needed in the West in the near future. I am a young man attending High school and am in doubt as to choosing a profession. If you can assist me I will be greatly obliged."

Wireless operating and automobile engineering are becoming more and more important as professions in this part of the country as these industries expand. Other suggestions for professions include: Doctor, dentist, attorney, expert accountant, civil engineer, interpreter, salesman, teacher and bank clerk.

Another TRIBUNE reader writes in to enquire as to the regular railroad fares between New York City and San Francisco.

The regular fare from New York to San Francisco is $129.58; $35.23 minimum; children under 12 years, half fare. A round-trip ticket costs $211.28.

Thousands Pay Homage To Men Who Lost Lives At Hull.

HULL, England, Sept. 6.—Impressive tributes were paid here today when the bodies of the American sailors who lost their lives in the ZR-2 disaster were taken to a railway station to be put aboard a train for Plymouth, from whence they will be taken home on the British cruise.

Thousands of persons stood by the roadside in the streets as the casket piled high with flowers, were carried by British and American air officers, acting as pallbearers.

Daily ALMANAC

by Ad Schuster

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6

This is a very good day for contributors. It was in 1620 that the Mayflower, carrying some millions of passengers, sailed from England for America. Among the things that make little difference may be listed the fact that Rhode Island College became Brown University in 1804. It was in 1861 that Gen. Grant took possession of Irvin Cobb's birthplace, Paducah, Ky.

The Almanac's little drove of detectives are busy engaged in "mystery" who this Mrs. Harris is. She has been traced as the business of a detective. While we are waiting the report of the hardware experts and other, we may give out some indication of the progress of the search. There is for instance—

ASTOUNDING DISCOVERY
Dear Sir: After wearing out the soles of one pair of canvas sneakers by slouching around the "TRIPNEY" office I have discovered that Mrs. Harris is married! Furthermore her husband smokes an Irish cigar. He may be seen on Franklin street waiting for the 3:30 train at about 10 o'clock.

AND THIS WATSON BREATHES THE "OH" OF HARRIS
Oh! these odd and strangely queer people of another sphere. They who never make a blunder. But when you do—wildly thunder. Yet we stay with a sticky grin. Thank you, sir. Come back again.

—JUST ONE OF THE STAFF AND HERE'S THE BLONDY, CORISANDE
Sir: It may or may not be a matter of pungent interest

but we cannot help noting that while Corisande is quoted at 40 cents a "c" retails at 10 cents a pound. Can you imagine if it flowed to express itself free and unimpeded, just what a pound of garlic could do.

Redolently yours
CORISANDE
WHATEVER THEY MAY BE
The things that Corisande cannot help but nothing make for the joy of living. We are thinking of giving her a medal as a champion in the art of jumping on conspicuous inconspicuousities.

500,000 Russ at Death's Door in a Single Province

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
LONDON, Sept. 4.—Half a million Russians are threatened with immediate death from starvation in the Samara district unless aid is rushed quickly, said an urgent "S. O. S." received here today from the American relief workers at Moscow.
The telegram was forwarded to Walter L. Brown, chief of the American relief administration in Europe, at present in Geneva.
"Forty per cent of the inhabitants have fled from the villages we visited and the remainder were preparing to move," said the message. "Half a million are in dire want. Every hour counts."
Samara is a province on the Volga river, in the heart of the famine region. It is but one of about ten districts ravaged by starvation.

To Own Your Own Home Is True Satisfaction

By THE OAKLAND REAL ESTATE BOARD.
There is no truer or deeper satisfaction than that which comes from owning your own home. You have contentment and security when your home is your own. It is yours—and your family's. Ask any man who owns his own home if he would go back to renting again!
In these days of too few homes there is a constant shifting and moving from place to place—a constant change. Often it is not of your choosing. The home owner only is secure. He is settled. He has pride in the ownership of property. His home is his own.
Buying a home is not costly—it is not out of the reach of small means. A small first payment will put you in possession of a home. After that your regular, normal payments for rent will pay for it for you. The expense of rent is turned into a saving. Your monthly payments on your home are your savings account. In a few years the title to the property is yours. It does not cost to own a home—it saves you money.
When you buy a home consult a Realtor. The Realtors of Oakland know Oakland real estate. They have detailed and scientific information and figures for your guidance. They have the will to serve you well. You need their expert and practical advice. Whenever you buy, sell or lease property, consult a Realtor. He can serve you best.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE, Oakland's greatest evening newspaper, assures its advertisers that the circulation of this paper reaches every day over 250,000 readers.

ican woman reporter to reach Moscow since the famine, now is en route to the Samara district, where starvation and plague are taking toll of lives by thousands daily. All along the route the special relief train is met by hordes of refugees telling of the plight of at least fifty million men, women and children.

By ANNA LOUISE STRONG,
Special Correspondent International (Copyright, 1921, by International News Service.)

EN ROUTE FROM MOSCOW TO SAMARA, Sept. 2 (By courier to Moscow, via radio to Berlin and via cable to New York, via London, Sept. 3). The train on which I am traveling to Soviet Russia's death district—Samara—is a combined hospital and kitchen on wheels. It contains food cars, kitchen cars and a dispensary, a waiting room for patients, staff quarters, a bath house, a kitchen, a bath and a laundry, all large enough to accommodate 4000 children.

STARVING MOTHERS
DESCRIBE THEIR CHILDREN.
For it is primarily to the children that the relief workers are devoting their initial labors. Altogether 30,000 emaciated little ones must be removed at once from the pest-infested region. In Samara City alone 4000 have been abandoned by their parents. In another district there are 600,000, of whom 194,000 are between 7 and 14 years of age.
Does it make your blood freeze in your veins to read that mothers leave their children upon the doorsteps of railroad stations with the words, "Take them, we don't want them"? Does it make you shudder with horror at such "crudity"? Listen! The mothers who do that do it because they can no longer bear to see their little ones starve at their with accusing eyes; because they can no longer listen to the rasping, hunger-hoarse voices begging food. A doctor who has been out there in deathland and who is going back on this train told me of the terrible sights he saw.

"Hunger of that kind, you know, is so depressing, so weakening, that if you let a piece of food fall to the ground in the midst of such a group of human corpses who have had nothing to eat but ground roots, they just stare at it with distended eyes, but they do not move. Perhaps one or two will faintly lift a hand—or unspeakable gesture of despair, for it has scarcely been lifted when it drops back, limp and lifeless. They are too weak, you see, even to grasp the thing that will soothe their gnawing pain and perhaps save their lives."

DESPAIR HANGS LIKE
PALL OVER THOUSANDS.
SYZRIAN, Russia, Sept. 4.—(By the Associated Press).—There was a time when Syzran was the most colorful city along the Volga. Today it is crowded with dust-besetted peasants in search for food. Even the laughter of children has been silenced over these tens of thousands, who sit, crossing themselves and wait for what seems to be the inevitable. Pictures of misery seen here are duplicated in Samara, Simbirsk, Saratoff, Tsimbire and every other city in the famine-stricken valley of the Volga. Tracks and railroad stations are piled high with the belongings of the refugees, who were driven from their land by the drought and the clouds of grasshoppers that destroyed even the meager grain that defied the heat of the terrible summer.

Markets have sprung up, makeshift room like, here and there about the refugee camps, offering for sale

NEW TELESCOPE WILL BRING MARS TO EARTH'S DOORS

Mine Shaft To Be Barrel Of Glass, Which Will Be Given Dash of Mercury.

PARIS, Sept. 6. (By the Associated Press).—Snap shots of Mars, as if the planet were little more than a mile and a half away, are promised by Dr. McAfee, American scientist and collaborator with David Todd, the well known American astronomer.

In an article in the continental edition of the London Daily Mail, he described plans for the largest telescope ever conceived, which he says will solve the question of whether life exists on Mars.

The instrument should be ready in 1924, when Mars will be nearer the earth than for a century, according to McAfee, who is planning the telescope on his estate near Danville, McAfee says.

Todd found a mine shaft at Chama, Chile, over which Mars will be at its zenith several times in 1924. We intend to use the shaft as the barrel of the telescope. It will be sheathed and will be fifty feet in diameter. The difficulty of a glass mirror will be obviated by the use of an invention of mine, a flat sheet iron dish fifty feet in diameter on which mirrors will be placed.

"A magnification of twenty-five millions will be possible, bringing Mars within a mile and a half. I am convinced that life exists on Mars and expect to prove it."

Chile Threatens To Retire From Nations' League

Territorial Dispute With Bolivia Delayed; Organization Of Assembly Completed.

By NEWTON C. PARKER, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

GENEVA, Sept. 6.—The territorial and treaty dispute between Bolivia and Chile, which threatened to cause another withdrawal from the league of nations, failed to come up in the assembly meeting today. The Bolivian delegates said the fight had only been postponed as they intend to press their claims against Chile. The Chileans threatened withdrawal of their country from the league if the Bolivian-Chilean treaty of 1894 were taken up for revision.

The Chilean-Bolivian fight was crowded out by a long argument over the method of organizing committees. The discussion of agenda, which was to have taken place today was postponed until tomorrow. The organization of the assembly was completed this morning by the election of vice presidents.

Chile maintains the league has no right to consider old privileges that were awarded under a treaty negotiated many years before the league was created. If Bolivia becomes aggressive in her attitude the situation may become serious, said the league of nations secretary, Dr. DeCunha of Brazil, for the presidency of the assembly by Foreign Minister Van Karmabek of Holland marks the beginning of an attack on the strong Latin-American position in the league.

Dr. Canelas, head of the Bolivian delegation, announced that Bolivia is willing to delay action on the Chilean treaty if the league leaders desire time for further study of the situation, but that Bolivia will not withdraw her demand for the treaty.

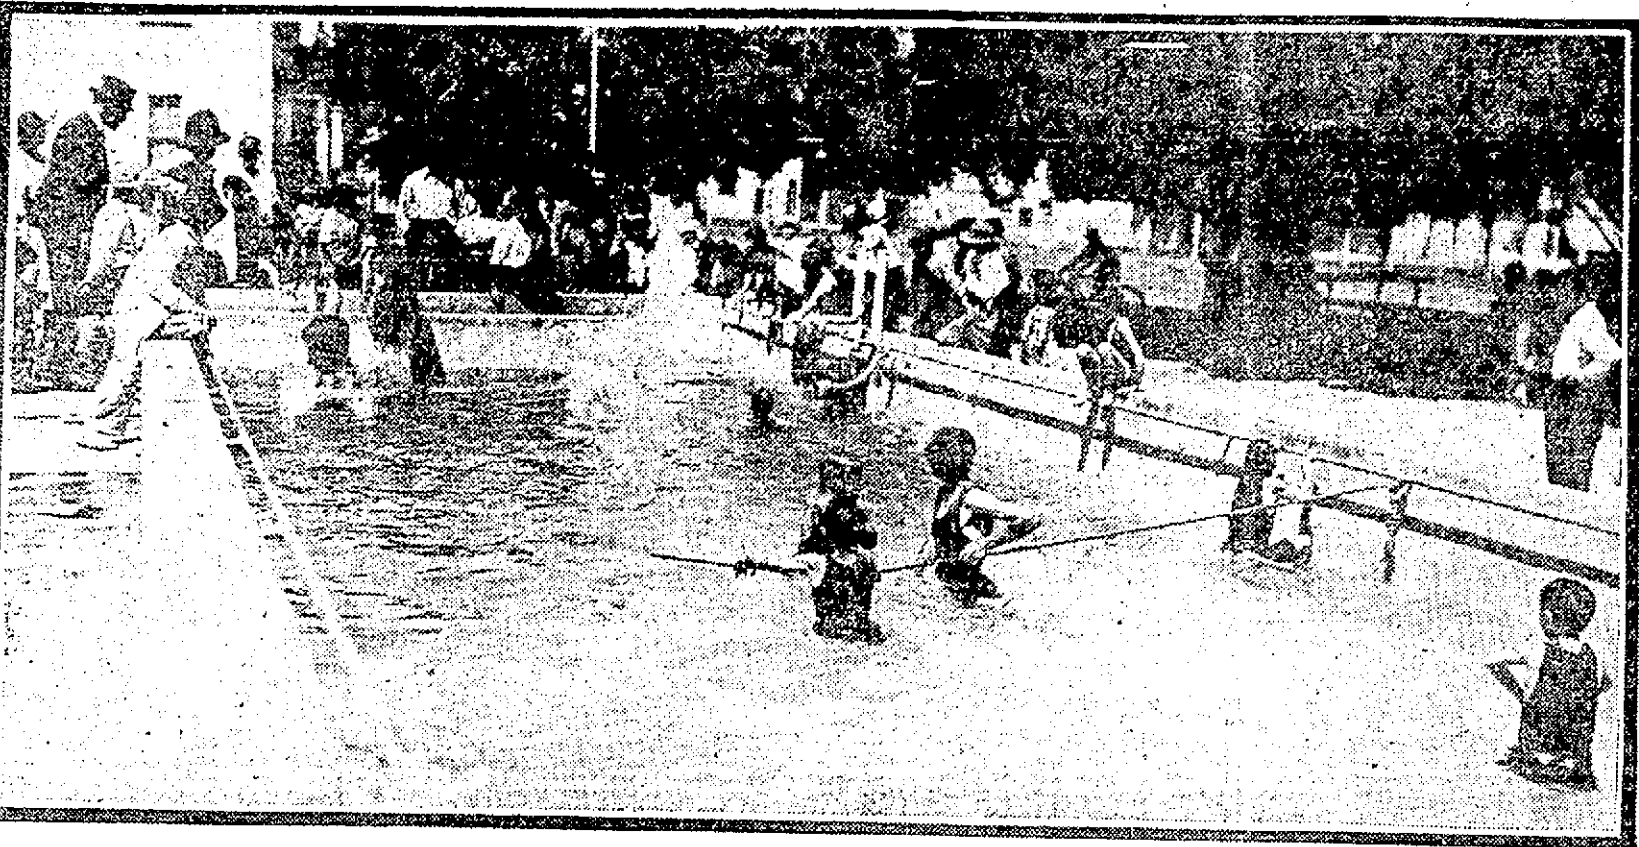

Sir Robert Cecil of Great Britain, one of the chief sponsors for the league in the days of its infancy, and other European statesmen fear that if the South Americans are out-generaled and defeated by the Europeans they may eventually join the proposed new confederation of powers which President Harding has in view.

Public interest in the meeting has dwindled and the galleries were only about half filled today.

It has been estimated that it cost the United States $1,000,000 an hour to participate in the war.

San Leandro Opens Playgrounds to Youngsters

In a wholly informal way San Leandro opened to the youngsters of that town yesterday a playground modern to the last detail, and right away the youngsters indicated just which modern detail would win the vote in a popularity contest—they flocked straightaway to the fine swimming pool and there The TRIBUNE camera man caught them as they were busy justifying the city dads who provided them with the 1921 substitutes for the "old swimmin'" hole. No formal exercises marked the opening of the grounds; the kids just hopped to it and had all the fun they could get out of it.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—John T. Williams, newly appointed United States attorney, is ill at his home with pneumonia. He has been confined to his bed for several days. WOMAN FILES WILL CLAIMING ESTATE

Following the filing in Superior Court by Miss Marion Scott, 405 East Fourteenth street, of a will said to have been left by Leon Morrison, late Oakland haberdasher, which named the young woman as the sole heir of an estate of $100,000, what promises to be a spirited legal contest will open tomorrow morning in the court of Judge E. C. Robinson.

Miss Scott, who was formerly a cashier in one of Morrison's stores, declared that the will was drawn on June 12, eight days before his death. Miss Scott claims that before his death, Morrison wanted her to marry him, and that when she refused he left her his entire estate.

She made the announcement shortly after Morrison's death, and her claims were backed up by her mother. At that time the whereabouts of the purported will was unknown and was never brought before the public until it was filed. On July 17, E. R. Taucher, acting as attorney for the local girl, made a trip to Nevada, and it was reported that the journey bore some connection with the search for the missing document.

Neither Miss Scott nor her mother, who claim the just before Morrison died he left the will in favor of the young woman, and wanted to marry her on his death bed, at the time would discuss the case or advance any explanation for the attorney's trip.

Joseph E. Crabbs, for nineteen years business manager for Morrison, declared also his employer promised to leave his fortune to him. He declared that he would make a contest if a will were produced. He ridiculed the claim of Miss Scott that Morrison proposed to her on his death bed.

"Morrison never cared for women," he said. "He was a woman hater. Once he said to me, and these are his very words, 'I don't like automobiles, and I don't like women. All they want is money. They are a bunch of grafters.'"

"Morrison was afraid to make a will because he had a superstition that it would hasten his death."

POLICEMEN WITH RIOT GUNS HALT MUTINY ON SHIP

Attack Made Upon Captain By Members of Crew In New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Policemen with riot guns, summoned by a radio message telling of mutiny, today broke up a fight between colored and white members of the crew of the Shipping Board freighter Chester Kiwanis, anchored off Staten Island. They found Captain Charles Boothby barricaded in his cabin, bruised and bitten. He attributes the trouble to white members of the crew.

When the police boat approached the officers heard shots and saw colored sailors and whites battling on deck. It developed that twelve colored men were opposing the rush of thirty whites toward the barricaded captain's cabin. The trouble was quelled without the police firing a shot.

The fight had been almost continuous since the freighter dropped anchor Saturday night and had been brewing since she left Baltimore. Two days previously Captain Boothby's version was the whites had an erroneous idea that he was favoring colored men in the distribution of work and the trouble culminated when they turned to "kick" him.

None of the combatants was seriously injured and the captain said he desired no arrests made.

HINDS' SLAYERS TRIED 3 TIMES TO HOLD HIM UP

Trio in Jail Confess Long Predication; Man Who Fired Shot Breaks Down.

SAN JOSE, Sept. 6.—In his cell in the city prison here today, Albert Kempf, can Francisco painter, held as the confessed slayer of Hinds, wearily local confectioner and clubman, wept bitterly, prayed half audibly and besought his feeling that death would be a relief.

As a result of the murderer's despondency he was being kept under close surveillance by Chief of Police J. N. Black and his officers, fearful of a possible attempt at suicide.

At the same time Hubert "Monk" Barnett and Joseph Brown, Kempf's two confessed partners in the robbery attempt that ended in the slaying of Hinds on the night of August 24, both in the same mood, although considerably less affected by their predicament than Kempf.

In the meantime the officers here were busy preparing to turn the wheels of the law with rapidity. Sheriff George W. Lyle and Chief of Police Black, both statesmen in the prosecution of the three men will be rushed with all possible speed in conjunction with this plan they were preparing this morning to file formal complaints of murder against the three men in the local justice courts.

All of the men were arrested under John Doe warrants issued the day following the slaying of the candy merchant here.

Additional statements were forthcoming today from the three men who have confessed complicity in the Hinds slaying, the result being the revelation of coolly laid plans of more than six weeks' duration for the robbery of Hinds, who each Sunday night kept a large sum of money in his home, the proceeds of the day's business in his store here and from the concessions at Alameda park, which Hinds owned.

Three attempts were made, it was learned by Sheriff Lyle and other officers today, to rob Hinds on the three Sunday nights prior to the one on which he was murdered, all attempts failing.

Kempf, who fired the fatal bullet, was not included in this planning until the night of August 14, on which he killed Hinds out of this plan when they saw Victor May, Hinds' stepson, in the house.

A house man was in on the plan to rob Hinds on one occasion, the men stated further today, but he "backed out" following the unsuccessful effort of that night.

Kempf declares, and the police believe his statements following an investigation of his past, that he has never been in trouble before. He declares that he has been out of work and that his family has been in need, with the result that Brown and Barnett were successful in their efforts to get him into the plot to earn "some easy money."

It was due to his extreme nervousness and fear of being caught that the three men that "under the table" were any shots to be fired, Kempf says that this is true.

The authorities were this morning endeavoring to secure from Brown and Barnett confessions that they are the men who staged several holdups in this city during the past two months. It is believed they are the men who held up a local oil station and a pedestrian, escaping in an automobile.

Auburn-Reno Road Survey Explained to Association

DONNER LAKE, Sept. 6.—One of the most interesting meetings ever held in the mountains convened here yesterday in the interest of the Auburn to Reno Highway association, and the association was organized with the following directors: W. C. Graves, Floriston; R. W. Randall, Boca; C. B. White, Truckee; J. F. Lance, Colfax; J. E. Walsh, Auburn; J. J. Sadler, Reno; Leroy Wagner, Oakland; John Russell, Sacramento. A director from San Francisco will be elected within the next 24 hours.

The directors elected Graves president, Mr. Randall vice president, and C. B. White secretary and treasurer. This meeting was called by W. S. Gelatt, who acted as chairman of the meeting. The opening of the meeting followed. He said that for the nine years he has lived in this district he has not seen any work of importance done toward improvement of these roads. The opening of the meeting followed. He said that for the nine years he has lived in this district he has not seen any work of importance done toward improvement of these roads.

SURVEY REPORTED

The following reports from Summit to Donner Lake, from the state line to the state line via the Truckee river route, and from Truckee to the state line via the Dog Valley route were submitted.

1st. From Truckee to Reno via the Truckee river route. On August 23 a party left Truckee for an inspection trip down the Truckee river from Truckee to the state line and found the following feasible conditions for building: A highway over the route the distance from Truckee to the old Durkhafter bridge, two miles north of Boca, is a distance of 10.3 miles via the railroad tracks. Leaving Truckee and crossing the Truckee river on the present county bridge on the south side of the river, an old road now exists, and practically the entire distance to the top of the plateau opposite the Burkhalter bridge. The distance on this proposed route is 10.3 miles.

The road from Boca past the Burkhalter bridge to Iceland was inspected Saturday, Sept. 3, by Supervisor Rodney McCallahan of Nevada county, W. C. Gelatt, general manager of the Union Ice Co., and E. B. Randall, engineer and district manager of the Union Ice Co., and it was found that the proposed road arriving on the plateau opposite the Burkhalter bridge at an elevation of about 200 feet would come down the side of the mountain a distance of 3 miles to the Boca Iceland county road and cross the Truckee river at the old Burkhalter bridge and go over the railroad tracks which cross this road a southerly exposure to the river, reaching a plateau opposite the town of Floriston on the north side of the river, reaching a plateau opposite the town of Floriston on the north side of the river, reaching a plateau opposite the town of Floriston on the north side of the river.

It will necessitate two bridges to cross and re-cross the river unless it is more practical to blow off the precipice that comes out at this point. Two more bridges are also necessary to cross the river and the road to the south side. This necessitates crossing the railroad tracks twice unless the distance from Truckee to the state line via the railroad track is 20.6 miles. The distance from Truckee to Floriston is 22 miles. The proposed highway to Floriston it will not be over nine miles with seven miles of old road, leaving six miles of new construction work to connect up with the Nevada highway at the state line. The state of Nevada is ready to build a highway to connect up with this new proposed route or any other.

The scenic beauty of this highway along the Truckee river is on an equal level with the scenery of the Columbia river in the state of Oregon and is worth more to the state of California from an advertising standpoint than many times its cost. This road will not be over a 3 per cent grade on any part.

The second inspection trip was made on the morning of August 22 to the summit above Donner Lake by George R. Winslow, division engineer of the California Highway Commission, B. White, secretary of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce, W. C. Gelatt, general manager of the Donner Lake company, Chas. R. Knight, president and general manager of Reno Chamber of Commerce.

This party proceeded to the last turn before going through the subway for the new road leaving the summit to come down the mountain on a 7 per cent grade to arrive at a mile west of Donner Lake.

THROUGH GRANITE ROCK

This proposed survey is through solid granite rock for a distance of not less than one mile, and is impracticable to build without a construction standpoint as well as securing a southerly exposure for the entire distance. He suggested boring up the subway after the storm and declaring the road closed. The subway is filled up every winter with solid ice and snow and is one of the hardest places to open up in the spring. Knight suggested building a snow shed after leaving the subway for about 300 feet, leaving the road from the valley canyon. The distance from the point to what is known as the old road with a southerly exposure, then using the old road, which has a southerly exposure and is open at least 30 days every year without any snow work on it before the present road is open.

In placing a rockcrusher on this road and with not a great deal of blasting this old road can eliminate the present trouble in getting over this mountain. A fill in and culvert at the bottom of the old road where it is going into what is known as the new road will give a 7 per cent grade this distance.

The inspection committee proceeded to the top of the Dog Valley grade, where it met J. M. Vickery, engineer in charge of the surveying from Summit to the state line on a new grade down the Dog Valley canyon. The distance from Truckee to the summit of Dog Valley grade is about 16 miles. The distance from Truckee to the state line is 20.6 miles. The proposed highway to Floriston it will not be over nine miles with seven miles of old road, leaving six miles of new construction work to connect up with the Nevada highway at the state line. The state of Nevada is ready to build a highway to connect up with this new proposed route or any other.

The scenic beauty of this highway along the Truckee river is on an equal level with the scenery of the Columbia river in the state of Oregon and is worth more to the state of California from an advertising standpoint than many times its cost. This road will not be over a 3 per cent grade on any part.

The second inspection trip was made on the morning of August 22 to the summit above Donner Lake by George R. Winslow, division engineer of the California Highway Commission, B. White, secretary of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce, W. C. Gelatt, general manager of the Donner Lake company, Chas. R. Knight, president and general manager of Reno Chamber of Commerce.

This party proceeded to the last turn before going through the subway for the new road leaving the summit to come down the mountain on a 7 per cent grade to arrive at a mile west of Donner Lake.

SCOUT MOVEMENT URGED AS BUILDER OF BOY CHARACTER

Masons Are Told By Judge Robinson of Great Work Done For Young.

Superior Judge E. C. Robinson, who besides his work as a judge is in charge of the juvenile court, told the members of Live Oak Lodge of Masons, gathered in the banquet room of Masonic hall at Twelfth and Washington streets, that the Boy Scout movement, the Y. M. C. A., the Sunday schools and other organizations that foster the character of youth, are vital aids to the juvenile court and the probation officers.

He declared there are 1100 men in a California prison under 20, 74 under 26 and 336 under 21. He said there should not be a single one under 21 there. He appealed for vigorous support of the probation officers and the 1200 members of the Live Oak Lodge of Masons should be encouraged to enlist their neighbors and playmates in the organization, which, he said, develops citizenship, respect, honor to God and loyalty to the nation.

District Attorney Ezra Decoto paid glowing tribute to "Bob" Evans, father of the lodge, who was in charge of the banquet and who for 30 years has officiated in that capacity. Evans is leaving for the mountains to recuperate his health.

H. Bostwick, senior warden, presided as master of the lodge.

Judge Robinson also addressed the Sunday school of the First Christian church on the juvenile court Sunday.

Pioneer Drops Dead at Home In Santa Clara

SAN JOSE, Sept. 6.—Residents of Santa Clara, together with many San Joseans, today are mourning the sudden passing yesterday afternoon of John Morrison, pioneer Santa Clara resident and one of the best known of that community. Morrison dropped dead in his home in Liberty street, Santa Clara, while talking with his wife, who was preparing dinner.

Many interesting incidents hinge around the death of this well known citizen, which, prior to the advent of the automobile, was one of the best known places in Santa Clara. Morrison was a man of great energy and his sudden death cast a gloom over the whole community today.

Morrison called a physician immediately upon his husband's sinking to the floor, but he was dead when aid arrived.

Evidence Lacking, Case Is Dismissed

Because of lack of evidence, the charge of grand larceny against Clifford Keller was dismissed this morning by Police Judge Mortimer Smith.

He was arrested August 28 as being implicated in a theft of a diamond ring valued at $2500 which belonged to Mrs. G. L. Dillman of the Claremont Country Club. The ring was stolen from the club of May 28, Keller at the time was employed as a bell boy at the club. He denied all knowledge of the theft. Prosecuting Attorney Fred Donohue asked that the case be dismissed.

Those appointed on the committee are as follows: E. B. Mellman, Richard Lyman, Clifford Brooks, S. Silverstein, Frank Clifton, Harold Weber, Eugene Barker, J. W. Collier, C. W. Capwell, E. G. Winslow, Harry Nelson.

The data was filed by A. B. Holland, secretary of the society.

PRISONER IS SUICIDE

CANON CITY, Colo., Sept. 6.—S. F. Taylor, prisoner in the county jail here, committed suicide by twisting his shirt around his neck. Taylor's body was found last night. He was in jail on an assault charge.

Harding Would Aid Head of Big Family

Zaccachea family of New York: "Father" Domenico, Mother Vincenza and their sixteen living children (there are three dead). The family also includes a grandmother, Mrs. Rose Zaccachea, 80 years of age, two canaries and a cat. Having seen a newspaper photo of Mrs. Zaccachea and her brood, President Harding recently wrote her a letter of congratulation. She replied, asking that he intercede with her husband's employer to raise his pay—$20 a week. This the President did, and John Wamamaker, in whose New York store Domenico is employed as a shipping clerk, personally replied that he would promote Zaccachea as fast as his ability warranted it. Zaccachea, holding Baby Nancy and the other children, are (left to right, top row), MARY, JOSEPH, ROSE, LENA, ANTOINETTE, LUCY, JENNIE and NICHOLAS. Front row: JOHN, MICHAEL, ROCCO, VINCENT, JACOMO and TESSIE.—Underwood & Underwood Photo.

ROMANCE WHICH LED TO SLAYING GOES ON ROCKS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 6.—The romance which led to a killing in the rocks here today, Mrs. Ruth Stephenson Gussman had separated from her husband, Pedro Gussman, a Porto Rican, which precipitated the killing of Father James E. Coyle, priest and confessor, by Rev. Edwin H. Stephenson, the girl's father and a Methodist minister. After several weeks of tempestuous experience, Mrs. Gussman packed her clothes while Gussman was attending a Labor Day picnic and left.

The separation of the Gussmans coming on the eve of today's grand jury session to make further investigation of the Stephenson case, gave rise to sensational rumors of all sorts. Chief of these was that the girl whose testimony has been confidently counted on in the legal battle to convict her father, may be reconciled to her parents.

The Gussmans were married by Father Coyle on August 11. A few hours later, while the priest sat on the front porch of St. Paul's parish house, Rev. Stephenson shot him to death.

Albany Assessments Boosted By Trustees

ALBANY, Sept. 6.—Because City Clerk Winslow, Vierra placed a valuation on the city of trustees thought was too low on property in the entire assessment roll has been re-written.

Sitting on a board of equalization, the five trustees have increased valuations which will mean more than $5000 in additional revenue to the city over Vierra's figures.

In order to raise the assessment it was necessary for the board to send notices to every property owner in the city. More than 5000 assessments were increased. When last year's total assessment was $2,000,000 the values of Vierra were but a little more than $2,000,000, according to the members of the board.

Vierra, it is declared, followed those previously adopted by the city. Vierra charges that his office carries too much work and that not having time to prepare the assessment roll himself he called upon county aid. A bill for $150 coming from county employees for the work done has been turned down by the trustees, who declare that if it is paid it must come from Vierra's pocket as the city charter provides that the city clerk also fill the role of assessor.

If Vierra's assessment figures based on county valuation had been followed members of the city board declare that many of the city's poor would have been greatly handicapped during the coming year. Mayor O. C. Marr supervised the re-writing of the assessment roll, assisted by Trustee Lisle-Green, John Gill, H. F. Hoyt and E. H. Spatz.

Policeman Raids 'Put and Take' Game

A little friendly game of "put and take," which is played with a top, was the cause of four men being arrested for violating the anti-gambling ordinance.

The game was being played in a grocery store at 601 Fourteenth street. Policeman E. L. Lamp, who was passing the store, heard one of the players saying "put, put, put." He walked into the store, watched the game for a few minutes and then arrested the men.

At the police station they gave their names as Thomas Pontas, Angelo Rainhas, George Vargas, and John Smith. They were all charged with violating the anti-gambling ordinance.

The date of their hearing was set for September 13.

BOY PETS BACK OF CHORUS GIRL; COP GETS HIM

Nell Harding, chorus director and chorus girl at the Century theater, objected to have a young man put his hand down her back while she was working the aisles during the Saturday night show. As a result she had the man in question, Ed Newhard, arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Mrs. Harding told Police Judge Mortimer Smith that Newhard was sitting in the second row. She stopped in front of him and when she turned around, Newhard, who is 12 years old, ran his hand down her back.

"What did you do?" asked Judge Smith.

"I slapped him in the face as hard as I could," replied the girl. "The costume that you had on I suppose was not cut low in the back," said Judge Smith.

Newhard pleaded guilty to the charge. His father told the court that his son had never been in trouble before. The case was continued until November 6.

Newhard was warned by Judge Smith that if within the next two months he put his hand down a woman's back he would go to jail.

FRANCO-BRITISH CLASH NEAR ON INDEMNITY PLAN

England Charges Briand With Rejecting Joint Agreement For Private Scheme.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—A new clash between England and France is developing. German indemnity being the chief issue at stake. The reparations question threatens an acute domestic situation as well as a new international crisis. It was declared by officials today.

France, by her action on German reparations payments has complicated the financial plans of the British government.

England had expected the reparations plan of the allies (drawn up a few weeks ago) to become effective at once and assist Chamberlain had written into the British budget the sums which England expected to receive from Germany.

British officials charge Premier Briand of France with rejecting the indemnity plan of the allies. Because Briand had arranged payment directly from Germany through M. Loucheur, French minister of liberated regions, and Herriot, minister of reconstruction in the German cabinet.

Senator Doumer, the French minister of finance, had accepted the allied plan for distribution of German indemnity although it provided payments to other countries before France.

When this agreement was handed to Premier Briand, he refused to accept it on behalf of France. In the meantime, conferences were going forward between Briand and M. Loucheur. As a result of these "private" conferences and in consequence of the rejection of the allied plan for distribution of indemnity, it is claimed by British officials that France will receive more, and England will receive less than had been agreed upon originally.

Recruiting Is Active In Berkeley Guard

BERKELEY, Sept. 6.—Following the large response of college students and others, the rolls of the Berkeley unit of the California National Guard are expected to close the end of the week, according to the announcement of Major David R. Barrows, commanding officer.

The Berkeley command consists of three companies, Berkeley, one in Oakland, and one in Sacramento. Last week's recruiting campaign resulted in the enlistment of 54 university men, 24 of whom joined the machine gun company, and 20 the headquarters company. As soon as the headquarters company enlists 20 more men, the organization of the Berkeley unit will be complete.

The newly formed headquarters company, under Lieut. A. I. Schmitt, 1918, will meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 at the armory, 2075 Addison street.

Truant School Heads Admitted To Bail

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Fred S. Smith, superintendent, and Charles de Boer, an instructor at the Chicago parental school, charged with accessory to the death of Orville Vardaman, 14, an inmate of the institution, surrendered to the police today. Each furnished $10,000 bond. Young Vardaman died, relatives claim, from injuries received in a beating alleged to have been administered as a punishment for the lad's running away from school, an institution for truant children.

German Ships Tied Up Since 1914 Will Sail

TAMPICO, Mexico, Sept. 6.—The German-owned ship Antonia, which has lain idle in Tampico harbor since its internment in 1914, has received orders to clear for Hamburg, stopping at New Orleans for a cargo. The vessel was alleged to have been engaged in carrying arms and ammunition for the ill-fated administration and was interned by the United States. When the United States entered the war it became impossible for the vessel to get out of the Gulf of Mexico.

CARUSO'S VOCAL CORDS LONGEST OF ALL SINGERS

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Dr. William Lloyd, throat specialist, who for many years treated Caruso, writes to the Daily Mail that, comparing him with other great singers, he found the following characteristics of the perfect singing machine.

"The most striking feature was the great length of the vocal tube, the distance from the teeth to the vocal cords. In Caruso, was at least half an inch more than in any other great tenor I have examined."

"A second point was the length of the vocal cords, on whose length, breadth and thickness the pitch of the voice largely depends. The average length of the vocal cords in a man is 18 millimeters (about 3/4 inch). Caruso's vocal cords were 1-6 inch longer than those of any other tenor I have seen."

"The capacity for vibration of the vocal cords is another most important factor, for the higher the note the more rapid must be the vibration. Caruso, when singing his wonderful chest C sharp, reached the phenomenal vibration for a man of 550 per second."

LAFAYETTE AND MARNE COUPLED IN CELEBRATION

Ceremonies Held At Washington's Tomb; Harding Sends Message.

MOUNT VERNON, Va., Sept. 6.—The dual anniversary of the birth of Lafayette and the first battle of the Marne was celebrated with impressive ceremonies today at the tomb of Washington.

President Harding, unable to be present, sent a message declaring that America's indebtedness to the French soldier was eternal and praising the "dauntless courage of American soldiers in the second battle of the Marne. Similar messages were sent by Secretary of State Hughes and Marine T. H. H. American ambassador to France. The President's message said:

"To General Lafayette in no small measure the American Revolution was due. With no aid but his own, he exposed the cause of the struggling colonies, and hastened to their support. He sought no selfish end and asked no pay, but found his reward in the thanks of Congress and the undying affection of generations of American citizens whose gratitude has been and always will be suitably shown on all appropriate occasions. Not only did he render brilliant personal military service, but through his instrumentality many needed financial assistance and reinforcements of troops were obtained for the Americans. Our indebtedness to him is eternal."

HUMAN RIGHTS PRESERVED
 Similarly, nearly 150 years after these United States grew to a nation of more than 100,000,000 free men, women and children, disclaiming any material advantages for themselves, sent armies of their youth and gave largely of their wealth that liberty and freedom which Lafayette cherished and espoused should be assured to France. We are pleased to believe, and we know, that these armies took no mean part in securing that ultimate victory by which the principles of France and human rights were preserved. By their prowess, their dauntless courage and their resolute valor they checked the German advance at Chateau Thierry and at Meuse Wood in the second battle of the Marne, and started that memorable retreat of the German hordes which after months later ended in final defeat.

RIST ON MUTUAL SERVICE.
 "The friendly and cordial relations which exist between the United States and France do not rest upon mere sentimentality or selfish interests, but rather are they built on the firm foundation of historic mutual service which cannot be shaken."

"In commemorating the double anniversary of the birth of Lafayette and of the battle of the Marne the American people show its attachment to the principles which have made its independence."

Premier Briand sent the following: "In the schools of France the pages in which our history merges with yours are read to the children. They learn there the gratitude which every Frenchman owes to the American heroes who died at Saint Michel at Pellevau Wood and at Chateau Thierry."

MANY CITIES CELEBRATE.
 NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The country today celebrates Lafayette-Marne day. Many cities have arranged civic ceremonies appropriate to the day that marks the birth of Lafayette and the seventh anniversary of the first battle of the Marne, in 1914.

The keynote of the celebration this year, the Lafayette Day national committee announced, "would be found in the message of President Harding to the committee at last year's celebration."

"Twice has France contributed to our liberty," he said. "Once when Lafayette came to the aid of America in her fight for independence, again when France stood as a bleeding bulwark for the freedom and democracy of the world against the military onslaught of an autocracy."

"The name of Lafayette brings to our hearts the name of France—it calls forever to our gratitude. If the opportunity ever come to me I will represent the American people in giving practical proof of our national friendship. Our true friendship may only be effectively expressed in deeds rather than in words, in a relationship that will stand rather than fall, in workable machinery of international goodwill and faith. Such a relationship can only have permanence and value to France when it is approved not by a party, but by the whole of the American people."

PACIFIC FOODS AND WORLD'S COMMERCE

PRODUCE MARKET
SPIRITED AFTER
TWIN HOLIDAYS

Fruits, Cantaloupes and Tomatoes Offered in Quantity Bring Good Prices.

Commission houses enjoyed the benefits of one of the most active marketing days of the season today, following the virtual two-day closing.

In the face of active and sustained buying, deliveries as heavy as have been handled in weeks, moved through the market, while prices in most commodities held firm and a few marked gains.

The Southern Pacific placed one car of peaches, another of potatoes, two of bananas, three of melons, including one of cantaloupes, one of grapes and one of lemons in the market. In addition, there were large boat deliveries of peaches and potatoes.

The Stockton train carried considerable green produce and truckers were active throughout the local area, bringing in tomatoes in the largest quantities of the present movement. Under this delivery, breaking down to a ton of about $1.50, not an unreasonable average. Sunny weather in the bay region is helping ripen the tomatoes, which, by the end of the week, should be in full swing of delivery. The crop manifestly will be short of last year, which, however, is expected to steady prices.

As evidence of the strength of prices, peaches on the heavy delivery sold at $2.50 and $2.75 a lug. This week should about the gathering of clings. Solway trees are to go low. Practically all the peach deliveries are of very high quality. Pears also were sold at fancy prices today. Some No. 1 is from ice houses bringing $3.25 and better.

A few pickle cucumbers are again offered in the market, after weeks in which the pickle makers have taken practically the whole output of the bay gardens. The sales have been at about 5 and 6 cent a pound, although some of the cucumbers run at $1 and $1.50 a 30-pound lug.

Shortage of bananas was averted by arrival of a cars today. The market has been holding fairly close on its supply of the fruit, and was cleaned out over the holiday. The price remains at 7 1/2 cents.

SCHOOL CHILDREN

$25 Prize For Best Article On Benefits To Be Derived From Annual Exhibition.

To increase interest in the forthcoming Industrial Week and Exhibition, to be held October 1 to 9, at Adora Park, the executive committee of the Associated Manufacturers of the Eastbay has announced plans for an essay contest for the school children of Alameda and Contra Costa counties. It is estimated that more than 80,000 children will be eligible. According to the plans as announced by the committee today, a cash prize of $25 will be awarded the boy or girl pupil who writes the best essay on "The Benefits Eastbay Cities Will Derive From an Annual Industrial Week and Exhibition."

Three prominent Eastbay residents are to be designated as a board of awards. Their names will be announced within the next few days. The essays must not be more than 150 words in length and each contestant is requested to write on one side of the paper only. The contest will close September 20, and a day or so will be given to the committee on awards to select what it believes to be the best essay.

Pupils who desire to enter the contest are requested to send their essays to the Essay Editor, Associated Manufacturers Exhibition Headquarters, Merchants Exchange Building, Thirteenth and Franklin Streets, Oakland.

'Little Tooty Bob' Notes
Win Divorce for Wife

"Good night, darling Little Tooty Bob."

This name of many love letters, written by C. D. "Roscoe" Parker to a hospital nurse, not only won an interlocutory decree of divorce today for the wife, Mrs. Lulu I. Parker, but also strained judicial composure and sentry in Judge Dudley Kinsell's court to the breaking point.

Parker, it developed in the course of the hearing, is one of twin brothers who are without given names, being denominated only by initials. His brother's nomenclature consists of the letters "A. E." Mrs. Parker told the court that her husband is sometimes called "Roscoe" in preference to the less expressive "C. D."

WIFE IS WEALTHY.

Mrs. Parker, who is wealthy and lives at 333 Fifty-first street with two daughters, testified she had given her husband large sums of money during their married life, $5,000 of which she gave him when they were reconciled after she had dismissed a former divorce suit. She said he promised to amend his behavior, but did not do so, and that afterward he said he would get a divorce if he had to perjure himself to do so.

The nurse with whom he is declared to have been infatuated is Miss Mabel Makepeace. She cared for him during more than one illness.

U. S. FROWNS ON REDWOOD CITY'S HARBOR SCHEME

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Improvement by the Federal government of the Columbia river from the mouth of the Willamette to Vancouver, Wash., to provide a channel equal in depth and width to that between Portland, Ore., and the mouth of the Willamette is not deemed advisable "either with or without local co-operation," army engineers held in a report transmitted today to Congress.

Army engineers also reported unfavorably today on projects further to improve the south fork of the Kentucky river: Bayou La Poudre, Louisiana; Redwood City, Calif.; Harbor and Ship Island Pass, Mississippi.

Teton Pass Fires

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6.—Fire-fighters were sent today to the Teton Pass and Ridge Route district to combat a fire on Frazer mountain, which has burned over 250 acres. A "firebug" is suspected of having started the fire. A number of other fires, believed to be the work of incendiaries, were extinguished.

AUTOS IN COLLISION.

BERKELEY, Sept. 6.—Joe Silva, 1221 Parker street, and Fred Berggren, 1720 Parker street, escaped injuries today in a collision of their automobiles in front of Berggren's home. Oakland Schedule Is Shown
Far Below Salaries in S. F.
And Other Large Cities.

An ordinance increasing the salaries of the seven nurses, the head nurse and the city bacteriologist was passed to print this morning by the City Council, upon the suggestion of Commissioner Colburn.

Colburn said that "while it is not the policy of my department to increase salaries at this time, it appears that the salaries of these employees are below the accepted standard and should be corrected."

The Oakland city nurse receives $110 per month and the head nurse $130. San Francisco and every other big city pays much more, according to Colburn's table of comparative salaries.

The ordinance appropriating $25,000 to improve Lake Merritt was given final passage and the money will be available in eight days.

Bids for furnishing machines to the health, building and license departments were thrown out for small irregularities and the vehicles will be bought in the open market.

City Attorney Leon Gray advised the council that there is still no establishment of a marble cutting works on Piedmont avenue near the cemetery. Protests against this business were recently lodged with the council.

BOY'S ARM IS
NEW MENU FOR
PET ANT EATER

BERKELEY, Sept. 6.—Because "Wampus," a pet ant eater, the mascot of the Sigma Xi fraternity, 2027 Ridge road, wandered away from his accustomed menu, a police investigation was started this morning.

E. H. Nutter, 2324 Illinois avenue, complained to the police that the fraternity mascot attempted to make a meal off the arm of his young son. When the boy attempted a final salutation, the Nutters were walking past the fraternity house yesterday, the animal retaliated by burying his teeth in the arm of young Nutter, says the father.

Patrolman W. A. Wiltberger investigated, and declared that the animal was securely tied to a clothes line about two feet from the sidewalk. According to members of the fraternity, passers-by had been warned to stay away from the animal.

"Wampus," who resembles a small key in appearance, was brought from Nicaragua by "Bob" Saylor, member of the fraternity and college yell leader, as a mascot for the Greek letter society.

Wife Is Winner
In Divorce Fight

Mary R. Wright today was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Frederick D. Wright on her cross-complaint charging him with cruelty. Wright instituted the suit about two weeks ago, charging that with inflicting great mental anguish upon him by his persistence in seeking other company than his own for her amusement. Superior Judge James Quinn, after hearing testimony by both sides, decided the wife had more cause for divorce than the husband, who, she declared, beat her with his fists. Judge Quinn granted Mrs. Wright $40 a month alimony and awarded her the custody of their two children, Margaret Jones, aged two, and Frederick Dorrel, aged ten months. The Wrights were married on February 2, 1918, and separated on January 2, 1921.

Judge Quinn also granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to Gertrude Poney from Edward Poney, to whom she was married on January 23, 1919, at Dayton, Texas. Mrs. Poney charged cruelty.

Petersen Case Again
On Slate Tonight

The civil service board meets tonight at 7 o'clock to consider routine matters, and at 8 o'clock it will plunge into a further study of the Petersen case. All available records and testimony will be on hand. The stenographers who took down the oral testimony will be asked to look into their notes for anything which may throw light on the subject. No decision of the case is expected for several weeks, although it is forecast that something will be done about it this year.

NURSES' PAY IS PASSED TO PRINT

Oakland Schedule Is Shown
Far Below Salaries in S. F.
And Other Large Cities.

An ordinance increasing the salaries of the seven nurses, the head nurse and the city bacteriologist was passed to print this morning by the City Council, upon the suggestion of Commissioner Colburn.

Colburn said that "while it is not the policy of my department to increase salaries at this time, it appears that the salaries of these employees are below the accepted standard and should be corrected."

The Oakland city nurse receives $110 per month and the head nurse $130. San Francisco and every other big city pays much more, according to Colburn's table of comparative salaries.

The ordinance appropriating $25,000 to improve Lake Merritt was given final passage and the money will be available in eight days.

Bids for furnishing machines to the health, building and license departments were thrown out for small irregularities and the vehicles will be bought in the open market.

City Attorney Leon Gray advised the council that there is still no establishment of a marble cutting works on Piedmont avenue near the cemetery. Protests against this business were recently lodged with the council.

BOY'S ARM IS
NEW MENU FOR
PET ANT EATER

BERKELEY, Sept. 6.—Because "Wampus," a pet ant eater, the mascot of the Sigma Xi fraternity, 2027 Ridge road, wandered away from his accustomed menu, a police investigation was started this morning.

E. H. Nutter, 2324 Illinois avenue, complained to the police that the fraternity mascot attempted to make a meal off the arm of his young son. When the boy attempted a final salutation, the Nutters were walking past the fraternity house yesterday, the animal retaliated by burying his teeth in the arm of young Nutter, says the father.

Patrolman W. A. Wiltberger investigated, and declared that the animal was securely tied to a clothes line about two feet from the sidewalk. According to members of the fraternity, passers-by had been warned to stay away from the animal.

"Wampus," who resembles a small key in appearance, was brought from Nicaragua by "Bob" Saylor, member of the fraternity and college yell leader, as a mascot for the Greek letter society.

Wife Is Winner
In Divorce Fight

Mary R. Wright today was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Frederick D. Wright on her cross-complaint charging him with cruelty. Wright instituted the suit about two weeks ago, charging that with inflicting great mental anguish upon him by his persistence in seeking other company than his own for her amusement. Superior Judge James Quinn, after hearing testimony by both sides, decided the wife had more cause for divorce than the husband, who, she declared, beat her with his fists. Judge Quinn granted Mrs. Wright $40 a month alimony and awarded her the custody of their two children, Margaret Jones, aged two, and Frederick Dorrel, aged ten months. The Wrights were married on February 2, 1918, and separated on January 2, 1921.

Judge Quinn also granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to Gertrude Poney from Edward Poney, to whom she was married on January 23, 1919, at Dayton, Texas. Mrs. Poney charged cruelty.

At tonight's meeting, the board of education will take up the district attorney's opinion on the contract of Barzee, under fire by the majority membership.
